DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the axial bores of claim 7 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

A series of singular dependent claims is permissible in which a dependent claim refers to a preceding claim which, in turn, refers to another preceding claim.

A claim which depends from a dependent claim should not be separated by any claim which does not also depend from said dependent claim. It should be kept in mind that a dependent claim may refer to any preceding independent claim. In general, applicant's sequence will not be changed. See MPEP § 608.01(n).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification does not provide support for the axial bores now being claimed in claim 6 and therefore does not provide enablement for this feature when it is not clear how the bores can be provided in the piston as currently claimed and have it function in a manner required to meet the claimed method, and likewise it is not clear that the cables can be passed through the piston rod either or how such can be accomplished without destroying the functionality of the apparatus.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 6 states axial bores which implies more than one bore but does not clearly recite such, and therefore there is question as to how many bores exist and if there must be a bore for each possible thing to be carried by the passages or if the list of "cables, liquid and gas" is meant to cover only the ability to carry one or more of these items, therefore with no clear support in the specification, such is indefinite where the scope of the claim cannot be clearly determined. For speedy prosecution the examiner will approach this limitation to mean there is at least one bore that is capable of carrying at least one of liquid, gas, or cables.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Campbell (384). The patent to Campbell discloses the recited plug comprising a main section near 68, at least one hydraulic cylinder with bore 70, fastening devices 24, 26, sealing surfaces 86, 78, a piston rod 76 which goes through end plates 86, 78, and that the ends are shown to have some manner of connecting elements provided thereon such as the bolt over the rod end surrounded by spring 22, there are bores within the piston rod for the flow of at least gas and/or liquid and would be capable of carrying cables as well, where the method of utilizing such as a plug which has slips 26 and sealing arrangement formed by member 24 reacting to the movement of wedges such as 130 which are connected to the slips 26 such that the slips and member 24 will engage the inside of the pipe as it is actuated.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references to Early, Adkins, Zehren, Wittman, Weber, Savard, Friedrich, Dyck, and Bath disclosing state of the art plugs.
